

We are aware of how complex healthcare coverage can be especially with the recent introduction of the Affordable Care Act, also referred to as Obamacare. For those of you who have questions regarding health care coverage eligibility we now have a resource and solution.

Crawford Advisors, our employee benefits consultant, has partnered with SelectQuote Benefit Solutions in offering a health insurance exchange powered by Getinsured. The exchange will provide employees with more choices and control over their health coverage with convenient one stop shopping. Whether you are currently uninsured or just want to explore new options, SelectQuote Benefit Solutions health exchange will give you more choices and control over your health coverage. With the exchange, you can compare coverage options based on price, benefits, quality, and other features important to you. A licensed agent can help you choose the combination of price and benefits that best fits your budget and meets your needs.

The SelectQuote Difference

- Through its health insurance exchange, SelectQuote provides unbiased price comparisons from numerous A-rated insurance carriers to deliver competitive rates on health insurance plans.
- You can also discover if you are eligible for tax credits offered by the federal government, which can be used to lower your premiums on health insurance.
- A licensed agent can help find a plan based on where you reside and provide personalized assistance in guiding you through the selection process.

Why is SelectQuote being offered?

SelectQuote Benefit Solutions, through its partner GetInsured, will help you understand your choices and guide you through the options related to health care coverage to help you find a plan that best suits your needs.
